

Counseling services available on site
for any child who needs help.

September 2022

Dear Parent or Guardian,

More than ever, parents, teachers, and school counselors must work together to help students who struggle with stress, anxiety, depression, trauma, and behavioral issues stemming from underlying mental health conditions.

Through a partnership with your school, Christian Family Solutions (CFS) has a counselor on site to help students who may be exhibiting symptoms of anxiety, depression, attention deficit, or a variety of other mental health and behavioral issues. CFS combines the unconditional love of Jesus with effective counseling strategies. Students who have accessed counseling services in the past have been able to become more focused, resilient, and ready to learn. Most importantly, they are reassured that they are dearly loved children of God, no matter what their challenges or circumstances.

The services of Christian Family Solutions are clinical mental health services. Should your child or teen need services, your school administration will inform you of the recommendation. The school administration will then ask you to complete the required consent forms to begin seeing the counselor. You may also request services for your child/teen. Talk with your school principal about how to engage our services.

We are privileged to serve your school and your family. We are blessed by this partnership and by the relationships we build with the students we serve. We pray that we can be a supportive resource to them and to you as well.

Warm regards,

Whitney Donovan
School Partnership Program Manager
